

Greece Accepts U. S. Cash Aid in Fight On Communism; Plèdges Full Publicity

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Greece promised today to do her part toward giving full publicity to the $300,000,000 American aid program, both in Greece and in the United States.

The Greek government made that pledge in an agreement signed in Athens by U. S. Ambassador Lincoln MacVeagh and Greek Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris.

The agreement, which gives the United States a free hand in controlling aid funds, contains the publicity provision written into the Greek-Turkish aid legislation by Congress. It permits American newsmen to observe the program in full.

In formally accepting America's offer of help, the Greek government agreed to carry out a broad program of economic, financial, industrial and government reform to make the recovery program fully effective.

The State department published the text of the agreement today. At the same time, the department announced a $25,000,000 surplus property credit to Iran. The Iranian credit was interpreted as being intended for the same purpose as the aid to Greece and Turkey—to block Communist expansion.

The credit will be used for arms and supplies for Iran's 100,000-man army.

Iran's 25,000 police, trained by an American mission headed by Brig. Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, are seeking a separate credit of $5,000,000, mostly for transportation and communication equipment—but not for weapons.

The army's supplies will include light tanks and some combat planes. But the State department stressed that no weapons capable of large-scale offensive operations will be turned over to Russia's oil-rich southern neighbor.

The former agreement with Greece cleared away the last obstacle to the start of the recovery program.

Key members of the official American mission of about 40 are due to leave next week for Athens. They will be followed soon by Dwight Griswold, the new administrator and other staff members.

The agreement's publicity provision declares that the United States and Greek governments will furnish "full information" consistent with the security of the two countries, concerning the assistance.

Defense Proposes Revenge Motive in War Fraud Trial

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The defense suggested a "personal revenge" motive in the May-Garsson war fraud trial today, and raising a question about an alleged seizure of liquor on the Canadian border during the prohibition era.

Chief Defense Counsel Charles J. McKelvey, Francis T. Llanagan, assistant chief counsel for the Senate war investigating committee, about the purported episode which, he suggested, involved former Senator James M. Mead (D-NY). Mead was chairman of the Senate committee when it investigated the May-Garsson case.

"Didn't you have some feeling against Murray Garsson because when he was a special assistant to the secretary of labor, the Government seized a couple of boatloads of liquor between Canada and the United States in which your father and Mead were interested?" Margiotti asked Llanagan.

"I never heard of such a thing," Llanagan replied.

Former Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky), wartime chairman of the House military committee, is on trial with Murray and Henry Garsson, brothers, on bribe conspiracy charges. The Government contends that May pocketed $53,000 for favors he performed for the $70,000,000 Garsson munitions combine during World War II.

"Didn't you in a talk with Senator Barkley, D-Ky, tell him that you were going to ruin the Garssons?" Margiotti pressed Llanagan. "Absolutely not," the witness replied.

"And didn't you tell Senator Kilgore, D-Wis., that you were going

JUSTICE'S RULE CHALLENGED IN CONTEMPT CASE

Previous Testimony By 16 Defendants May Be Used in Trial

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—In a blow to defense hopes, Justice Richmond B. Keesh ruled today that the testimony of 16 leaders of the joint anti-Fascist refugee committee before the House committee on Un-American Activities can be used against them in their mass trial for contempt of Congress.

Legal experts said the ruling is important in the history of contempt prosecutions.

The Government contends that Dr. Edward K. Barsky, New York surgeon and chairman of the anti-Fascist group, and 15 of his associates on the committee's board of directors conspired to withhold records of their organization from the House committee.

Defense Attorney O. John Rogge challenged the Government's right to introduce that testimony on the ground that a law of 1856 provides that testimony at a congressional hearing may not be used in any subsequent criminal proceeding against those who gave it, except a perjury trial.

Defense attorneys had hoped that a favorable ruling from Justice Keesh would virtually torpedo the Government's case in the current trial.

Justice Keesh said the law was made primarily to enable Congress to compel the co-operation of witnesses without infringing on their constitutional rights not to incriminate themselves.

"The issue here raised is whether the purpose of the entire statute would be, or is intended to be, frustrated by construing the immunity granted to embrace contempt proceedings," Justice Keesh wrote.

Former Vice President Henry A. Wallace, scheduled to be the first defense witness, is expected to take the stand Monday.

"Absolutely not," Llanagan said. "Didn't you tell Senator Barkley that the purpose of the Senate investigation was to make Senator Mead governor of New York?"

"I never said such a thing to Senator Barkley," Llanagan protested.

COHASSET, Mass., June 20 (AP)—Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, hospitalized for a week with a diabetic and high blood pressure condition, said today he would be in District court in Washington Thursday for disposal of his six to 18 months jail sentence on mail fraud charges.

Informed by his wife that the U. S. attorney general's office had ordered him to appear before the court at that time, Curley said in a statement from his bed in Cohasset hospital:

"If I continue to improve as I feel I have in the past few days, I'll go to Washington on Tuesday, rest on Wednesday and present myself to the court on Thursday."

Congress Favors Measure to Cash Terminal Bonds

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—A Treasury department warning against "inflation" failed today to slow down a congressional drive to cash an estimated $2,000,000,000 in terminal leave pay bonds held by former service men and women.

Without new legislation, the bonds, issued under a 1946 law, will not be redeemable until five years after the date of discharge of the individuals holding them. They bear two and one-half percent interest.

A House armed services subcommittee is expected to start hearings next week on legislation to permit redemption of the bonds immediately, at the option of the holders. There is strong bi-partisan support for the legislation.

Republican leaders put their strength behind the bill after the President's veto of the income tax reduction was sustained in the House. Because the Treasury is to be an estimated $4,000,000,000 better off next year as a result of retention of present tax rates, party leaders said they believe the bonds should be paid now.

Any payments made now, said House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana, will be a reduction in the national debt and will result in a net savings on interest. The bonds bear a higher interest rate than the average the Treasury pays on money it borrows.

Rep. Dwight L. Rogers (D-Fla.), author of the original terminal pay bill and sponsor of legislation to redeem the bonds now, said he is certain of strong Democratic support for the bill.

Marshall Tells Congress Information Plan Needed

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—In an apparent alarm over a possible slash in the Administration's overseas information program, Secretary of State Marshall told Congress today that "peace cannot be served by any rationing of American facts."

His views were presented in a letter read to the House as it completed consideration of a bill formally authorizing continuance of the program—due to expire just ten days from now unless it wins congressional approval.

A vote on passage was put off to Monday.

Meanwhile a Senate appropriations subcommittee approved a $12,000,000 fund to operate the program in the year starting July 1. The administration sought $34,000,000 but the House had voted nothing.

In his letter—addressed to Rep. Mundt (R-SD), author of the bill—Marshall declared: "I am asking for the tools which are necessary to meet present circumstances in world affairs."

Saying that he knew from personal experience that the United States is "grossly misunderstood or misrepresented in many parts of the world," Marshall said: "We must present ourselves clearly, candidly and affirmatively—if we are to achieve the kind of peace we believe in."

In forcing a delay until Monday, Mundt, in charge of the legislation, turned the tables on the bill's opponents who, time and again during five intermittent days of acrimonious debate, have sought to delay a decision.

Late today, however, with the point reached for an up-or-down test on the bill, the ranks of its supporters dwindled and Mundt—rather than risk a showdown—pushed through a motion to defer action until Monday.

Psychiatrist Terms Former Writer Insane
BOSTON, June 20 (AP)—A psychiatrist told a Federal jury today that Douglas Chandler, 58, former Baltimore writer on trial for treason, "is insane now and was insane from 1941 to 1945" when he allegedly broadcast under the name "Paul Revere" over the Nazi shortwave radio.
Dr. Kenneth J. Tiltonson, chief psychiatrist at McLean hospital, said he had examined Chandler on five occasions since Jan. 24 and that he believed the defendant was insane in 1931 when he first went abroad.
Dr. Tiltonson, one of several psychiatrists called as witnesses for the defense got under way today—the 12th of the trial—classified Chandler's ailment as "paranoia." This he defined as:
"An unusual form of mental disease due to internal causes and having a hereditary background."

She blushes from a little box

Come from a beauty parlor's shelf;
She blushes from a little box,
And paints a smile to suit herself;
Her eyes are warm, and gay, and blue—
She puts her lashes on with glue!

Yes, American women spend lots of time—and billions of dollars a year—improving on nature. And the results are easy on the eye.
It's a fact that American women spend more money each year for beauty aids than they spend for electric service that makes their homes so comfortable. Now this doesn't mean women are cosmetic-crazy. Not at all! It merely proves that electricity does a lot for a little!
Every penny in your electrical budget buys you plenty of dependable, labor-saving service. It will light a 100-watt bulb for 3 hours. It will bring you the finest radio entertainment for an entire evening. It can switch the dirt from 3 large tubfuls of washing! Yes, electricity does many, many more chores for the average home than it did 15 years ago—but it does twice as much for the money as it did then.
What other item in your household budget gives you so much for so little?

YOUR EYES
Dr. H. C. Baumann
This column is written by Dr. H. C. Baumann, Optometrist, a competent authority on matters pertaining to eyesight.
It is extremely important this time of the year to adequately protect our eyes from direct sunlight. For the body, the sun's rays with their vitamin content and therapeutic values are beneficial. But to expose our eyes to the sun without protection is harmful and can be dangerous.
The ultra-violet rays and the infra-red (heat) rays in sunlight are of no visual value and only create strain, discomfort and burning sensations in the eyes.
It is therefore necessary to wear tinted glasses that will filter out these harmful rays. Your eyesight specialist should have this tint incorporated with your spectacle prescription or, if you do not wear glasses, see that you receive properly ground and polished lenses in order to assure proper protection and accurate vision.
If you have any questions concerning your eyes, address Dr. Baumann at 215 High Street, Pottstown, and your query will be answered through this column or by direct mail.

Legislator Wants
Ex-Pole Troops
Admitted in U. S.
WASHINGTON, June 20 (P) — Entry into the United States of approximately 30,000 Polish former combat troops, now in Britain and Italy and refusing to go home, was proposed today by Rep. Mackinnon (R-Minn.).
He said the Polish soldiers are anti-Communists and do not want to return to Russian-dominated Poland. He offered a bill to admit them in the United States.
Most of the troops fought against Germany, Mackinnon said, and when Poland fell they reached Britain or other friendly territory.
Mackinnon sought to have the legislation considered as part of current hearings on a bill to allow admission of 400,000 of Europe's homeless war refugees over a four-year period. It did not appear likely, however, that the House judiciary subcommittee on immigration will take up the problem of the Polish soldiers immediately.
Rep. Celler (D-NY) said there is no indication that Britain is attempting to force the Polish troops to leave its soil.
Immigration Commissioner Ugo Carusi and Rabbi Philip Bernstein appeared before the committee today to support the admission of 400,000 displaced persons.
Rabbi Bernstein, advisor of Jewish affairs to General Lucius Clay, U.S. commander-in-chief in Europe, testified that no more than 60,000 Jewish refugees would choose, if given opportunity, to come to America.
Carusi labelled as "false and misleading" statements he said were made by Paul H. Griffith, national commander of the American Legion, on the number of aliens and illegal entries to this country.
Griffith's figure of 10 illegal immigrants for every legal one is about 800 percent too high, Carusi said.
Under questioning, Carusi estimated that there are approximately 3,000,000 aliens in this country and said that not more than 300,000 of them "at the very outside" had entered illegally.

Motorist Is Found Guilty on Two Counts
By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, June 20 — William W. Reigner, of Douglassville RD 2, today was adjudged guilty of two highway violations by Judge Harold G. Knight who assessed him two $5 fines and ordered him to pay the costs of prosecution.
In lieu of the fines, the court ordered the defendant to spend five days in prison on each charge.
Reigner was arrested April 4 on Germantown pike, in Lower Providence township, by State Trooper Raymond A. Nighan who testified that the defendant, driving a truck, was going at excessive speed on the left side of the road.
Arraigned before Magistrate Russell C. Thomas, Lower Providence, Reigner waived a hearing for court.
At a second hearing today, Judge Knight acquitted Harvey S. Nester, of Boyertown, who had been arrested for driving on the left side of the road and waived a magistrate's hearing.
State Trooper Harry Crane, of Collegeville, told the court that Nester was on the wrong side of the highway when he struck another car on Upper Lewis road, Limerick township, Feb. 8.
Asked by Judge Knight how he knew that Nester was on the wrong side, Crane said that tracks in the snow indicated the violation.

Rib-Tickling Tricks
Provide Fun Night
For Foremen's Club
Ice tea splashed in the faces of guests by a magician waiter, a man who vocally imitated the bands of Duke Ellington, Harry James and others, and a quartet—all was part of last night's Fun and Frolic Night for the Executives and Foremen's club held at the YMCA.
The riotous session, which has supplanted the clambake as the annual Summer affair of the club, began as usual with dinner.
But it was far from a usual dinner. Circulating among the guests as a waiter was Eddie Clark, member of the Philadelphia show which did the entertaining and a widely-known juggler during World War I.
Before he mounted the stage to do a more orthodox magician's act, Clark disrupted the supper's calm with such antics as splashing the ice tea he was pouring in the faces of guests with a trick flip and offering cigars to members only to have them find their knuckles rapped by a smartly closed lid.
The band imitator, Harry F. Wells, billed as the creator of Pop-eye imitations, and also a member of the troupe, echoed the voice which brought him fame and then went on to run almost the gamut of popular bands.
After this a male quartet took over, leading group singing and then performing on its own. The group, accompanied by female pianist, also sang during the dinner hour.
Francis Wampler, club president, was in charge of the meeting and the Rev. Delaine E. Story delivered the invocation. Frank Kurtz presided at the piano before the act went on.

Never argue at the dinner table, for the one who is not hungry always gets the best of the argument.

Great Day for Vegetarians

MORE is happening in the meat market than meets the eye. The past week the 12 cattle markets over the country received 56,800 head of cattle. This is normal. But retail prices only speeded up. The increase now has continued over several months. Yesterday in Pottstown High street markets steak was selling at 89 cents a pound. Some places were getting more than $1 a pound for it. Roasts were 65 to 68 cents a pound. Veal was selling from 79 cents to 85 cents. This was an increase of almost 30 percent, although beef on the hoof had risen only four cents.

Some cities outside Pottstown are reporting their butcher shops, or some of them, are not limiting their price increases to those justified by the wholesale price increase but are charging what the market will bear. It wouldn't be a bit surprising if some of them are holding back a locker full of meat waiting for still higher prices.

The consumer is partly to blame for these prices. Against a normal meat consumption of 132 pounds per person per year, present consumption is running at the rate of nearly 150 pounds. In America only, of course, because in Europe consumption is only a minor fraction of what it is in this country.

Is there anything the consumer can do about it? He certainly can eat less meat till the price comes down. That is what happened in the grand gouge on meat just after OPA controls went off a year ago, and it was notably effective. The consumer is by no means powerless, if he can control his appetite.

New Community Law

THE "little" taxpayer—the average family man—was given a break by the Pennsylvania General Assembly this week with the passage of the Community Property Law. From the standpoint of most families, it was one of the highlights of the session, for it affects every married couple in the state. The law provides that property or income acquired by husband and wife after marriage and after the effective date of the act, shall be common property in which each will have a one-half interest.

This means that in the case of a husband earning $3000 a year, he and his wife each can file for $1500. In this way the total tax is reduced.

While the saving seems small, over a period of years it will amount to a real saving.

Nine other states have such a law, and the Pennsylvania law is a duplicate of that in Oklahoma, which has been approved by the Supreme Court.

All in all, it is figured that the new law will save married couples in the state approximately $100,000,000 annually.

That is worth considering, especially when it affects the working man—plain John Q. Public.

It is to the credit of the Assembly that it passed this law which means so much in dollars and cents to every Pennsylvania family.

Quote the Raven

THE raven is the recipient of some unusually kind remarks from the Smithsonian Institution, which credits it with the sagacity more frequently attributed to the owl. Not only is the raven wise, says the Smithsonian, it is also articulate. Sometimes it gives a hollow laugh. "Haw-haw-haw-haw." Sometimes it goes "Thung," like a big tuning fork, and lets it go at that.

We are inclined to the theory that it all depends on the times. In spanking times, when stocks are going up, automobiles are traded in every year and the old ones sold to the underprivileged, and houses are being pressed upon buyers at 10 percent down and 20 years to pay, the owl epitomizes the spirit of the occasion. He is taciturn, content, and gives an overall impression of having planned it that way.

In times, however, when everybody is producing to beat all get-out but nobody seems to be getting what he needs at prices he can pay, the owl does not show off to the best advantage. The raven then looks the part of wisdom and sounds it. For a commentary on the contemporary scene, what could be finer to the point than a hollow "Haw-haw-haw-haw"? What more appropriate than an occasional "Thung"?

PUNKIN CORNERS.
Editor, The Mercury, June 20.
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:
Well, I see by The Mercury where summer makes its bow early Sunday morning. We can expect the first show about July 4.
India, a dispatch says, may be divided into 600 states. With 600 governors, lieutenant governors, state legislatures and the like that should very much take care of the Indian unemployment problem.
And say some reformers claim a Punch and Judy show is too rough for children because of all the clubbing that goes on. Next thing they'll insist the baseball bat is too cruel to the horsehide.
Hopin' you all the same.

Flags Peril Safety

To the Editor: Every civic-minded citizen certainly can be proud of the patriotic appearance of our main street in anticipation of the firemen's parade which is being held on the Fourth of July.

The business houses look fine the way they are adorned with flags and bunting. And the cluster of flags around the light standards add a lot too.

Near certain intersections, however, the flags around the light standards interfere with the vision of the traffic lights. This is especially true at High and York streets where the lights are hard enough to see at best.

Pottstown people who use High street frequently know there are traffic lights at York street and they keep their eyes open for them there as they do at other crossings.

But out-of-town motorists — and there are many on the road now — often do not realize the presence of lights and they either go right through the red light or jam on their brakes and stop with a screech just in time.

I think those who put the flags there should make a survey and determine just which flags are in the line of vision between motorists and the traffic lights, and these flags should be removed.

It is a fine thing to be patriotic but it is even a finer thing to think of safety and lives.

Too Much Noise

To the Editor: I thought we had a borough ordinance that forbids blaring phonograph music on our streets. Recently we have had several cases of this canned scratching that not only is annoying but also is very disturbing to the peace and quiet.

Isn't it about time the police clamped down again?

Pottstown JENNIE

Nothing Morally Wrong

To the Editor: Maybe if C. M. W. ("Sunday Protest," Readers Say, June 16) would love his neighbors more and hate himself less, he'd be a lot happier.

There is nothing morally wrong with a horse show on Sunday. And it's a lot more fun than writing letters of contempt such as C. M. W. did.

Ten Passengers to Plane

To the Editor: It should be illegal to manufacture airplanes with capacity of more than 10 passengers. Then there would not be from 12 to 50 valuable lives crushed out—and their bodies cremated.

FOR THE LIVING

OF THESE DAYS

by VICTOR F. PATTERSON

General Secretary Y.M.C.A.

"LORD TEACH US TO PRAY."

Luke 11:1

"TRUST IN HIM AT ALL TIMES; YE PEOPLE POUR OUT YOUR HEART BEFORE HIM; GOD IS A REFUGE FOR YOU. Psalms 62:8

USE CANNOT BE A MINUTE MAN FOR GOD, READY AT ANY TIME TO DO HIS BIDDING WHEN YOU:

Are tormented and polluted with sinful thoughts.
Try to hide your heart and all that it contains from Him, never pouring it out upon Him.

Think of prayer as simply a reflex influence.

Think prayer is sort of a lightning rod to save you from God's wrath. Do not realize that prayerlessness means slow rot.

Think prayer is bending your will to God.

Think prayer is overcoming God's reluctance.

Have a will which is at cross-purposes with His.

Neglect a fixed hour of prayer.

Are self-managed, therefore do not sense the power of God's guidance in your life.

Have never felt the impact of the mind of Christ upon your mind.

Will not work to make our Christian faith really relevant to people's need.

Lack effective programs of action.

THE HOUR OF PRAYER WILL BE EFFECTIVE FOR YOU WHEN YOU:

Pour out all your loneliness, all your distress and all your gloom before God. Make God to be your salvation and glory, the rock of your strength. Have a heart that is filled with wonder and praise of God's extraordinary goodness to you. Feel that everything within you says, "I have met God."

Align your will with God's so that He can do things through you that He would not otherwise be able to do.

Can use prayer as a power to get through difficulties, so that you will always be at your best.

Have such a prayer habit and sacredly keep it, build the habits of your life around it.

Build your mind to being to His.

Remember that I will know as much of God as you do as much of God as you are willing to be a devotee.

Use a God-given life, because you cannot let a man to guide your own life.

Take God into a whole being.

Take the word of a whole Bible, but make it your own in quietness before God.

Lawmakers Question Oil Shipment to Reds
WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP) — Representative Shafer (R-Mich), chairman of a House armed services subcommittee, said today that officials in the office of international trade will be asked to explain why the United States is shipping oil to Russia.
His declaration was made on the House floor after a number of members arose to cite reports that tankers now are being loaded on the West coast for that purpose.
Representative Gavin (R-Pa) said he is opposed to a policy of attempting to stop Communism with one hand and shipping material to Russia with the other.
Representative O'Rourke (R-Wis) declared Russia has a reserve now of 150,000,000 barrels of oil as compared with 50,000,000 for the United States, and shouted: "There's something rotten smelling in Washington."
Representative Bender (R-Ohio) said that it is "inconceivable" to continue shipping oil to Russia, and at the same time spend $31,000,000 on a proposed information program to prove the merits of democracy over Communism.

Kin of Lost Seamen Awarded Damages
PHILADELPHIA, June 20 (AP) — Families of three crewmen lost when the tug Menominee was sunk by a Nazi submarine off the Delaware peninsula in the early days of the war today were awarded damages totaling $53,000 by U. S. District Judge William H. Kirkpatrick.
The award was assessed against the Southern Transportation company, Philadelphia, owner of the tug. The suit was filed in July, 1943, but the Navy, for security reasons, withheld news of the tug's loss.
Judge Kirkpatrick held the owners negligent in ordering the master of the tug to take the ocean route, more dangerous than the Delaware and Chesapeake canal route.
Damages were awarded to: Mrs. Annie Elizabeth Tatem, Norfolk, Va., widow of first engineer Cecil V. Tatem, $40,000; Mrs. Lucy Lawson, Burlington county, Va., widow of Isaiah Lawson's son, George Alvin, a messboy, $12,000. An additional $1000 was awarded to young Lawson's estate.
Sixteen crewmen were killed when the tug was sunk.

Roses Here Expected To Bloom This Weekend

The beautiful red and pink roses at the Boyertown High school athletic field are expected to enter the blooming stage this weekend in an effort to keep harmony with the old theme that "June is the month of roses."

Grover Schlottter, caretaker of the field, stated last night that some roses will be open tomorrow but the height of the beauty cannot be expected until the latter part of next week.

The roses which completely surround the field are sprayed with various insecticides several times before each blooming period under supervision of Augustus D. Gresh, chairman of the Boyertown school district's property committee.

Leon R. Mest, 30, Dies; Represented The Mercury in Area

After four weeks of confinement in University hospital, Philadelphia, Leon R. Mest, Boyertown, died last night at 8:45 o'clock. He was 30.

Known as the Boyertown representative of The Mercury for the past nine years, Mr. Mest was the proprietor of the Mest News Agency, located at the corner of Philadelphia avenue and Washington street.

A graduate of Boyertown high school in 1934, Mr. Mest gained recognition in sports events. He was anchor man on a mile relay track team that year which accounted for mile record time in the annual Berks county relay carnival held at Kutztown. This event is held regularly, and Mest's record remains unbroken.

This same team won first place at that time in the Penn relays, held at Franklin field, Philadelphia.

Mr. Mest succeeded Henry K. Grum as news dealer in Boyertown when, in 1937, he purchased the business and the building in which it was located. The agency was then situated at Philadelphia avenue and Chestnut street. In 1944, he purchased the J. J. Brown funeral directing establishment at Philadelphia and Washington streets, which included eight apartments, and made his residence there after remodeling the entire structure.

Role of Newspapers In U. S. Stressed

PITTSBURGH, June 20 (AP) — Newspapers can do much to help the nation achieve "new, higher standards of living," delegates to the annual display advertising conference of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association were told today.

"This is a time for decision—a time for fundamental decision," said Arthur H. Motley, president of Parade Publication, Inc., in a speech to the more than 100 delegates. He added:

"I am convinced of the fundamental fact that we (newspapers) must develop more powerful sales weapons—the most powerful weapons we have ever had if we are to achieve new, higher standards of living. In order to have 60,000,000 jobs, in order to have a large enough volume of business, in order to provide a decent profit in spite of increased costs of labor and everything else, we have got to talk to more people—sell more to more people."

"No medium reaches more people than newspapers. Just as our great newspapers have played an important part in the social and political life of our communities, so in the future must they play a more important part in the economic life of those areas."

Deadline Approaches for U. S. Decision On 500 Million Bank Loan to Chinese

By HAROLD K. MILKS
NANKING, June 20 (AP) — Highest diplomatic sources said today that Chinese Communist successes had practically limited U. S. policy to giving military aid to Chiang Kai-shek's regime or abandoning it.
That hard choice was seen as the June 30 deadline neared for a $500,000,000 U. S. Export-Import bank loan to China. The U. S. has asked China to make basic political reforms before granting the loan.
These sources agreed a third course was possible but it must come from China. That is for the generalissimo to make sweeping, almost revolutionary reforms within his government.

Application to China of the "Marshall plan" to aid needy countries found little favor among the various diplomats. They said economic aid without reform would be only a temporary remedy.
The Chinese government, the diplomats insist, now is suffering from conditions about which Secretary of State Marshall warned a year ago when he was chief of the American truce mission to China.
Marshall told both the government and the Communists then that China was doomed to political and financial bankruptcy unless she found peace and demobilized her wealth-consuming armies.
Foreign diplomats willing to comment said extension of American lend-lease to China, even including military supplies, was no solution to the government's problems under present policies of Chinese military leadership. Military aid also would be but a temporary remedy.
They admit frankly they themselves have no immediate solution for giving China effective help beyond their ideas on what China must do for herself.
They were particularly critical of the Chinese government's constant refusal to make any move toward an aggressive economic-agricultural-political program of self-assistance until it won peace and unity through civil war.
One diplomat with years of experience in China told the Associated Press:
"Government leaders have put settlement of the Communist question above everything else, refusing to consider improvement of the individual situation of the Chinese people until that is accomplished."

Without exception, the diplomats queried considered China's future was dismal. All agreed it was "most probable" that Chiang Kai-shek would lose all Manchuria to the Communists.
Some declared that unless the Communists are checked promptly, the government eventually may be squeezed into the Yangtze valley with the Communists and other factions—perhaps some warlords—controlling the remainder of what is now China.

Boston Woman Scales Mt. McKinley Peak

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP) — The National Park service said today that Mrs. Barbara Washburn, mother of three children, has become the first woman to climb Mt. McKinley, highest peak in North America.
The park service announced that Mrs. Washburn, of Boston, reached the top of the 20,300-foot peak in Alaska June 7 in company with seven men under the leadership of Bradford Washburn, her husband.
The agency said Mrs. Washburn weighs 110 pounds, is five feet tall, and is "as chick in mountain attire as a movie heroine in cowboy clothes." It made no estimate of her age.
The party is now descending the mountain and will reach Mt. McKinley National park headquarters late in June.

Governor Proposes New Building for State Employees

HARRISBURG, June 20 (AP) — Gov. James H. Duff opened the way today for construction of a new office building at the State capitol to house the scattered offices of the State bureau of employment and unemployment compensation.
A measure signed into law by Duff would permit the secretary of labor and industry to use up to $800,000 accumulated in a fine and penalty fund for the new building with the Federal Social Security board paying off the cost in rentals spread over 15 years.
At present more than 3000 persons are employed by the bureau here in a half dozen or more privately owned office buildings in addition to a warehouse needed for the storage of employer records in connection with the jobless benefit fund.
The plan will save the State a lot of money in rentals, commented William H. Chestnut, secretary of labor and industry, on the signing of the measure.
He explained the bureau, which is under his jurisdiction, is now pressed for space for its staff and storage of its records.
The new building, the site and plans for which will be determined in the future with the approval of the governor, could be constructed under the new law by the department of property and supplies, State building agency.
Other new laws signed by Duff increase from $1000 to $2000 the ceiling on loans which consumer credit companies can grant.
Allow the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh school boards to collect mercantile and personal property taxes for education and Pittsburgh along to impose a $1 to $5 per capita levy for schools.
Postpone for two years from Nov. 1 the acquisition by the State of additional county mental hospitals.
Establish a $1500 salary for the chairman of the Pennsylvania turnpike commission and $1000 pay for other members of the commission once the toll road is extended from Carlisle to Philadelphia.
Require furlough of the last persons employed when the number of Pittsburgh public employees under Civil Service is reduced.
Permit the free showing of religious movies by churches on Sundays.
Extend for another two years permission to issue wartime emergency certificates to non-certified teachers and the extended employment of substitute teachers.
Require weekly inspections of anthracite mines found to be gaseous by the detection of a flame safety lamp and end within six-months use of open-type

Marriage, symbolized by the wedding ring, is a tie which binds hearts and hands in a union which forms the basis of human society. Its purpose is to improve human relations, provide for the continuity of the race, and enrich human lives with the blessings of companionship and love.

A wedding is rightly an occasion of great joy; but it is also an event which marks the assumption of solemn responsibilities. It is a pledge of fidelity and wholehearted devotion which forecasts the establishment of a home and the rearing of children.

To meet these responsibilities and make marriage a success, men and women need divine guidance and the strength and inspiration which come from religion. A home without these lacks one of the first essentials to successful living and true happiness.

A church connection should be one of the first considerations of the young couple who leave the altar as man and wife. A home founded upon faith in God and the precepts of religion will stand unshaken in all the vicissitudes of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, no true democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Coffee Cup Combination Triumphs Over Flagg's by 7-5 Score As Takacs Bests Zezenski, Millard

Midge Takacs was tough in the clutches last night and hurled the Coffee Cup into a three-way tie for sixth place in the City Industrial league with a 7-5 victory over Flagg's.

A crowd of 300 fans saw the game on Franklin Field and saw Flagg's outbait the winners, nine to five, but couldn't push across the talies that were needed.

After a scoreless first inning which saw Steve Zezenski and Takacs set the opposition down in order, the Coffee Cup pushed across three markers in the second to grab the lead.

A single by Al Luppacchino, a walk to Nick Colosanti, an error by Zezenski and a single by Takacs sent the winners into a flying lead.

The cafe holders took a 4-0 lead with a tally in the third on Bud Stolpe's triple and a balk.

Flagg's got back in the ball game with two in the third on singles by Wassiluk and Charlie Hertzog and a pair of miscues by Stolpe.

In the fifth, the Coffee Cup jumped on relief Bob Millard for two more runs. Although it got only one hit in the frame, the Cup took advantage of two misplays for the scores to make it 6-2.

Plugg's made it 6-4 with two more runners in the fifth on a walk, a single by Millard and a double by Hertzog.

The winners added their final run in the sixth on a single, stolen base and Nunu Corum's error, while Flagg's made its last bid with a run in the sixth on singles by Merrill Mauger and Merrill Hook, a walk to Paul Richards and Millard's fly ball to center field.

FRANK SHEA . . . halts Detroit.

YANKEES HALT TIGERS BEHIND FRANK SHEA

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—Rookie right-hander Frank Shea of the New York Yankees continued his mastery over Hal Newhouser and the Detroit Tigers today by outpitching the veteran Detroit left-hander, 5-3.

Shea, who blanked the Tigers in his two previous starts against Newhouser, stopped the Tigers with four hits today, two of which were homers by Eddie Mayo which accounted for all of the Tigers' runs.

The hefty recruit, who fanned nine and walked six, held the Tigers hitless until Mayo banged his first homer of the game in the fifth with the bases empty.

Tincup was assisted throughout the two days by Ivan Kuester and Howard Cates, local Braves scout in this area, and he had nothing but praise for their work.

Cates, largely through whose efforts the school was brought to Pottstown, worked with the two scouts and also with Johnny Ogden, the Braves' head scout in this area.

On the final day, the boys were given tests in running and taught proper batting stances and other fundamentals that go for making better ball players all the way around.

After the instructions, a game was started and continued through until late in the afternoon.

Every boy that attended the camp was given a fair chance to show just what he could do. Tincup added, "We want to build better baseball and if we didn't get a thing out of the camp, we are still very much satisfied if we have given pointers of importance to some youngsters who in the future years may be our big league ball players."

Hegan Bats in 3 As Indians Whip Red Sox by 3-2

BOSTON, June 20 (AP)—Jimmy Hegan, for whom fans of his home city of Lynn put on a "night" drove in all the runs tonight as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, snapping a Boston winning streak at eight games. The loss, coupled with a New York victory dropped the Sox into second place in the league standings as the Yankees took over first.

Maria Assunta sailed along behind Guy Sperat and tallied four runs in the seventh inning to sew up a decision that was won in the middle innings.

Frank Levorgood hurled a beautiful two-hit job against hapless El Chico and recorded an easy victory for the Ramblers who moved into third place in the National league.

Three Traffic Crashes Occur Here During Downpour of Rain

Driving rain last night shortly after 9 o'clock contributed toward three automobile crashes in the area. No one was injured and damage to vehicles was slight.

A truck and a car were slightly damaged at 9:10 o'clock when the car hit a truck, halted to make a left turn into Sunnybrook from Route 422, and then came off to hit another truck coming in the opposite direction.

Driver of the car, Verona Leigh, Baltimore, Md., told police she was going east and crashed into a truck driven by Robert K. Hartenstein, Pottstown RD 4, when she failed to see the vehicle, at a standstill waiting to turn left.

She related that her car then swerved left and struck a truck operated by George P. Klock, Graterford, coming in the opposite direction.

Patrolman Robert Houser investigated.

Another accident occurred at Chestnut and York streets. Richard Emrich, Phoenixville, told Patrolman Robert Houser, that he was driving slowly west on Chestnut street looking for the stop sign when he struck a car going south on York street, operated by Lloyd Haver, 176 Manatown street.

Damage resulted to the right front fender of Emrich's car. The accident happened at 9:30 o'clock.

Still a third accident in the rain involved an auto and a truck at High and Adams streets at 9:30 o'clock.

Reporting to borough hall later, Douglas P. Heller, 815 North Franklin street, told police he was going east on High street in the second traffic lane and came to a dead stop when a car in front of him slowed to turn left.

Thus halted, he said, a truck, driven by Harry Anderson, King street, struck his vehicle in the rear.

Two cars were damaged in a crash at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the intersection of Penn street and Buttonwood alley.

A report to police said a car operated by Joseph F. Fosco, of 25 Chestnut street, was proceeding north on Penn street when a car operated by William R. Pasukinis, of Shamokin, pulled out from Buttonwood alley and hit the left front side of the Fosco car.

The Fosco vehicle had the left front fender, braces, left front door and left body damaged. The only damage to the other car appeared to be a broken front license plate holder.

Haley and North Regain Management of Circus

WILMINGTON, Del., June 20 (AP)—James A. Haley and John Ringling North, nephew of circus founder John Ringling, today regained control of "the biggest show on earth," when they were named president and executive vice president of Ringling Brothers - Barnum Bailey Combined Shows, Inc., at the annual director's meeting.

North told reporters after his election "Jim Haley and I have worked together in the past and we will continue to do so."

Haley, who left the circus early this month when the Supreme court of Delaware re-instated 50-year-old Robert Ringling as president, said he would rejoin the big top Monday when it opens for a day-stand at York, Pa.

There are orchids the size of pearls and as large as eight feet.

DRIVERS' SCHOOL — (Continued From Page One)

unlimited number of applicants will be able to take driving tests during the two-week period and receive an accurate resume of their driving habits.

In the classroom, psychological equipment will be used by experienced instructors in providing instruction in the complicated art of steering an automobile.

Behind-the-wheel training will see the student driving beside the instructor in the dual-equipped cars, with three student-observers acting as back-seat drivers. The hopeful operators will receive a complete check on errors made in driving practices and in their regard for provisions of the vehicle code.

In addition, their attitude toward pedestrians and police will be noticed.

Further instruction will be held in a street equipped with standards to check correct methods of parking, moving backward or forward in a straight line, ability to determine the position of all parts of the car, and a weaving test, in which the driver's ability to move in tight spots will be gauged.

The purposes of the program, according to officials sponsoring it, are "to stimulate student instruction with a practical demonstration as to the content of behind-the-wheel driving, and to stimulate community interest to the extent of arousing the desire to make driver training a part of the curriculum in the local high school."

Hours of instruction will be set at 8:30 a. m., Monday, July 7, in the high school, Beacraft said, when the applicants will meet to decide the most convenient meeting-time for the majority. He emphasized that not more than 40 applications for the full two-week instructions period could be accepted.

These tests and classroom periods of instruction have been successful in numerous American communities, with the most startling result of reduction of one-half in the number of accidents by men who have undergone the program.

Observers found that the pre-war fatality record of drivers 16 years old was nine times worse than that for drivers 45-50 years of age, but that high school students who had taken the course had only one-half the number of accidents as those who drove without the special instruction.

The program originally was under taken to train high school students but has been expanded to include anyone, with or without a driver's license, who wishes to receive a complete, up-to-date series of lessons in driving safety.

Republican moves to win agreement for a vote tomorrow at a definite time. And when the GOP leadership kept on into a wearing night session, the opponents still prevented a vote by talk and more talk, but denied it was a filibuster. The Republicans planned to keep the Senate in session continuously until they got an agreement on a voting time.

5. Then Mr. Truman said his final say of the busy day, over all major networks.

6. Taft went on a major network half an hour later with his answer to the President's veto message.

The senator, broadcasting from the capitol, caustically remarked that "the President in ten days, including the three or four days spent in Canada, put his judgment of the meaning and effect of a hundred detailed provisions over that of the great majority of those who have carefully drafted and analyzed these provisions."

Taft flatly disputed the President's assertion that the bill would bring Government interference with labor-management dealings.

Mr. Truman said in his broadcast he "would have signed a bill with some doubtful features if, taken as a whole, it had been a good bill."

"I fear that this type of legislation would cause the people of our country to divide into opposing groups," he said. "If conflict is created, as this bill would create it—if seeds of discord are sown, as this bill would sow them—our unity will suffer and our strength will be impaired."

He declared, as he had in his veto message, that "there is still time to enact progressive, constructive legislation during the present session" of Congress. And he made it clear that he feels "we need legislation to correct abuses in the field of labor relations."

The President loosed one blast at Hartley individually. He quoted the House labor committee chairman as having said on the floor June 4 that "You are going to find there is more in this bill than may meet the eye" and added:

"That is a revealing description of this bill by one of its authors."

The presidential broadcast was delivered in even more specific terms than the veto message. In the veto, more vehement even than those Mr. Truman delivered against the tax cut, the first OPA extension and the Case labor bill of the past year, he declared:

The Taft-Hartley measure "would cause more strikes, not fewer." It would "plague this nation for years to come." It would be "a clear threat to the successful working of our democratic society."

The House acted just as soon as the clerk had finished droning through the reading of the veto message, which brought boos from the Republicans and applause from some Democrats and the packed galleries. Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) had to gavel for order.

Hartley moved to bar debate, and the roll call followed. It found 106 Democrats joining 225 Republicans in favor of overriding the Chief Executive. Supporting the President's veto were 71 Democrats, 11 Republicans and Rep. Marcantonio (AL-NY).

Mr. Truman found not one single part of the bill to commend, and tore particularly into its provisions for blocking big strikes by government injunction, outlawing the closed shop, making unions subject to damage suits for contract violations, changing the labor board setup, and barring political activity by unions.

He concluded with a pointed suggestion that Congress get busy and pass "appropriate labor legislation" at this session in line with his recommendations in January. They were for curbing certain "unjustified" jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts, bolstering the labor department, and setting up a Senate-House committee to study labor-management problems.

But Republican congressional leaders snorted at the suggestion of another bill. Even before the House voted, Hartley commented "not a chance."

It was the second veto Mr. Truman had slapped this week on a major piece of Republican legislation. His veto of the bill to cut income taxes Monday was upheld in the House by two votes.

Army Vet Cleared, Adjudged Guilty On Separate Charges

A 21-year-old recently-discharged Army veteran was found not guilty of a charge of assault with intent to ravish a 14-year-old Spring City girl, but was adjudged guilty of assault and battery at the conclusion of a lengthy hearing in Spring City borough hall last night. The session was conducted by Justice of the Peace Harvey A. Shakespeare, sitting with Burgess Benjamin F. Bertolo.

Ernest L. Reed, Homewood, Kansas City suburb, Kansas, was ordered to pay the costs of the case. He was discharged from the Medical corps of the Army the past April 24, after serving four years and three months. He was a boarder in the home where the alleged offense was committed, at 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

The charges were brought by Mrs. Naomi Martin, 37, of 133 North Main street, Spring City, whose second floor apartment is situated over a cafe. Reed immediately pleaded not guilty to the charge and later established what proved to be a satisfactory alibi.

Testimony was taken from Mrs. Martin, three daughters, aged 19, 16 and 14, and four other witnesses. Mrs. Martin and her witnesses endeavored to show that Reed went up to the apartment while all the others were in the cafe and attempted to attack the 14-year-old girl as she was preparing to retire. Mrs. Martin said she went up from the cafe and her daughter was crying and told her Reed had attempted to attack her.

Reed claimed he had been in the company of George Cook, 22, Arch street, Spring City, in cafes from 11 p. m. Thursday night to 2:15 o'clock yesterday morning, and went up to retire after leaving Cook. Cook corroborated this testimony. Reed explained when he went upstairs the daughter was not alone, but Mrs. Martin and another boarder also were there, and a 12-year-old daughter.

Reed was required to settle his board bill with Mrs. Martin before he may obtain his clothing from her home, after which he is to remain away from there.

Meat Prices Take Slight Dip Here; Retailer Says Buyers 'Co-operate'

Meat prices, following an upward spiral for the past six weeks, have tapered off this week at levels comparable to the prices quoted in Pottstown meat markets the past week, a survey showed yesterday.

Some slight consumers' resistance to the high prices has been noted in Pottstown, but according to a supervisor for one chain operating a store on High street, this resistance has not been as great in Pottstown as it has been in some communities such as Reading.

"Pottstown consumers have been more co-operative in the face of higher prices than consumers have been further north," he said. "The reaction there has been greater than it is here."

Dave Morris, manager of the meat department of one High street store, noted that prices have risen for all meats except pork during the past six weeks.

Prices this week, he said, are the same as the past week, with the exception of the weekend specials offered by the stores. Prices on these meats are slightly lower for the weekend.

Meat prices for the weekend in Pottstown stores show choice steaks ranging about 88 or 89 cents per pound, with roasts from 65 to 68 cents.

Veal prices are comparable, with roasts and cutlets in the 79 to 85-cent range.

A six-cent hike in the price of lamb in the past two weeks has placed it in the 65 to 69 cent a pound category.

The price boosts were laid by retailers to the high prices obtaining on the livestock market. Top beef was selling at $27.45 per hundred pounds during the past week, while veal was up to $30. Prime lamb sold at $26, with pork slightly lower in the $25 range.

AFL Seamen Seek Salary Increase

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—CIO-manned ships moved normally on both coasts today but another threat to maritime peace arose with demands of AFL Seamen for a new wage boost.

The AFL Seafarers International union, acting under a wage reopening clause in its contract, began bargaining with 12 East and Gulf coast operators and took under advisement a 5 percent wage increase offered by operators similar to that won by CIO unions.

The CIO contract, covering 30,000 seamen, does not expire until Sept. 30.

CIO officials said final returns were not in from the ratification vote on the East and Gulf coast agreement reached yesterday, but said there was no doubt a majority favored approval. The settlement ended a four-day shipping tieup.

The only National Maritime union local to reject the agreement so far was the one at Charleston, S.C.

Besides the NMTU, the CIO unions covered by the settlement are the American Communications Association on the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association.

Two West coast CIO unions—the ACA and Marine Cooks and Stewards—signed an interim agreement to keep Pacific coast vessels moving while negotiations continued with shipowners.

COAL STRIKE —

It would be mandatory for the President to transfer the whole problem to the Congress, even if it were not in session.

"Thus, major economic disputes between employers and their workers over contract terms might ultimately be thrown into the political arena for disposition. One could scarcely devise a less effective method for discouraging critical strikes."

The President said the strike could occur before the proposed board of inquiry could act. If an injunction were granted after the stoppage began, it "would arouse bitter resentment which would not contribute to agreement" either, the executive said.

etrating analysis fully exposes the devastating effect on our national economy if the Taft-Hartley bill were to become law."

Comment from Democratic leaders was slow to develop amid the rush of embittered Republican protest. After the House had overwhelmingly voted to override the veto, however, Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif) gained the floor long enough to cry that "15,000,000 Americans will look with fear upon the House action."

And Senator Pepper (D-Fla) told the Senate that the Truman veto was "a courageous step."

"He has emphasized," Pepper said, "that this bill is an attack on the masses of the people. He doesn't propose to become a party to wiping out gains of the decades, nor to stripping from labor the gains made in our own time."

House Republican Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana said the labor veto coupled with Monday's tax veto shows that Mr. Truman was "just giving lip service" to the idea of co-operation with Capitol Hill.

The National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce both issued statements assailing the veto, while Representative Leonard W. Hall, New York, chairman of the National Republican congressional committee, declared:

"By his two veto messages this week, President Truman rejects and repudiates the fundamental concept of American representative government."

"He makes league with Henry Wallace and the Communist-New Deal coalition which now seeks to impose minority rule upon the American people through executive usurpation," Hall said in a statement.

26 Unionists Found Guilty of Contempt

MILWAUKEE, June 20 (AP)—Circuit Judge Roland J. Steinle today found 26 members of Local 248, UAW-CIO, and the union itself guilty of contempt of court in an action growing out of Allis-Chalmers strike picketing, and sentenced three union officers, including President Robert Buse, to terms of five months each in the house of correction.

In addition to Buse, other union officers who were sentenced to terms in the house of correction were Joseph Dombek, vice-president, and Fred McStroul, recording secretary.

Judge Steinle imposed a fine of $250 on Local 248 for violation of a previous court order upholding the ruling of the Wisconsin employment relations board which banned mass picketing at the Allis-Chalmers plant the past Fall during the 280-day strike which ended the past March.

Nineteen other defendants, including Owen Lambert, independent Communist candidate for the State assembly in the Fall of 1946, were sentenced to serve three months each in the house of correction. The other four defendants each were fined $200.

Attorney Arthur Richter, representing the union, told reporters he would appeal the convictions on the grounds that the court should have proceeded under criminal rather than civil contempt laws.

bills to the proper taxpayers.

"Last year was the best year we've had for the collection of taxes," Rutter stated, "and we have hopes of matching last year's record for this coming year."

He added that the borough office will continue to receive taxes for any unpaid property against which liens have been placed with the county and will forward them to the county treasurer in Norristown without any expense to the taxpayer.

This service, he went on to say, saves the delinquent taxpayer at least a half day's time and the bother and expense of a trip to the county seat.

governments must belong to the three chief European powers."

A similar British note was delivered to the Russian foreign office, Tass said, adding:

"At present, these representations are being considered by the Soviet government."

The Tass broadcast was the first inkling to the world that the Soviet government would consider the Marshall proposal, if only to the extent of studying all the tenets of the plan.

Meanwhile, hopes for Soviet participation in the plan brightened here, but Scandinavian and Central European countries remained cautious in committing themselves.

An Associated Press survey of European capitals indicated the proposal would run into difficulties and might come to nothing unless Soviet participation were forthcoming.

Boost in New Funds For the Navy Okayed

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—A Senate appropriations subcommittee today approved a $177,000,000 increase in new funds for the Navy department over what the House has voted.

Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass), chairman, said the increases would "give us a full working and fighting Navy."

He said that despite the Senate increase in new funds total Navy expenditures during the next year will be considerably less than the House voted. He explained that old funds for shore establishments and certain construction projects were cut back by the Senate group.

The subcommittee action is subject to later approval by the full appropriations committee before it reaches the Senate, but Senator Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the full committee, told newsmen he approved.

In addition to the action on the Navy funds, the subcommittee reduced House totals for the Justice department by $20,780 and for the Commerce department by $2,654,207 and increased funds for the Federal judiciary $1,900,000.

As a result, senators said, funds for the four agencies covered by the single bill amount to about $550,000,000 or a net increase of $13,500,000 above amounts voted by the House.

BANDITS ROB —

5 feet 7 inches tall, weighing 180 pounds, also heavy-set and dark complexioned, and wearing a brown hat, light colored sweater, and dark trousers.

In addition to the $15 he lost, Fetter was robbed of a 60-year-old purse he carried, one of his most treasured keep-sakes. He regretted the loss of the purse more than of the money.

"I was lucky that I just paid the rent the day before," he remarked later. "Last year I was robbed of $33 rent money in the parking lot behind the A. and P. store, and that time somebody hit me on the head."

Fetter is a retired Reading railroad fireman. He worked for the company for 45 years before leaving with a pension several years ago, due to his ailing heart. The doctors warned him against any excitement, he said wryly, but agreed that two episodes of robbery within a year were not exactly conducive to his continued good health.
